MENTORSHIP

AFTER THE SUMMER ACADEMY

- Students offered paid position in the Dean's office during the school year, and opportunity to be a peer mentor for the next summer's cohort
- GOAL: Provide career readiness and work experience while receiving needed assistance for events and outreach
- Students formally interview, attend monthly meetings, and submit assignments, in addition to helping out with events, projects and outreach
- 9 mentors in 2017/18 | 18-23 in 2018/19

PATH

MENTORSHIP

AFTER THE SUMMER ACADEMY

- MEETING TOPICS: Resume & Interview overview/feedback, Public Speaking, Entrepreneurship and Humanities Alumni guest speakers, Looking for jobs, etc.
- ASSIGNMENTS: Attend 3 events on campus with at least (1) career-development related, revise resume factoring in feedback, research actual job positions, conduct an informational interview
- PARTICIPATED IN: 30+ outreach events at SDCCD, UCSD and at other community colleges in the area. 12 High School visits in works
- Worked with division on a large variety of campus events, art exhibits, and on KNIT R&D

PATH

MENTORSHIP

- A past PATH student and peer mentor will review and revise 'curriculum' during the winter quarter. They then plan and lead trainings to help prepare students to be PATH Peer Mentors for the next Summer
- During the summer, peer mentors are required to meet with their assigned students weekly to check-in and share resources and also host a variety of optional 'social' activities.
- The peer mentor role is paid, though most student's initial interest is to give back and help others as they were helped

Example of mentor curriculum

Weekly Mentor Meetings One-to-One Outlines

Week 1 (Introduction/Health & Well-Being):

Possible meeting location: Pete's (by RIMAC)

Setting Expectations:

- Expected punctuality
- Communication agreement: via text? Email? Facebook?
- Privacy - what gets communicated to Laura/Jollee
- Cancelling/rescheduling expectations
 - Notify ahead of time to reschedule

Discussion points:

- Needs for the program.
- Encourage students to participate in optional events
- Are there any concerns or questions right away?
- Tell me a little bit about yourself. What brought you to UCSD?
- Establish the benefits of the Mentor relationship.
- How are you feeling so far? Any first impressions of the campus, or the program?
- How is your current living situation?
- Anything else that you want to check in about?
- Health/well-being resources: Student Health Services, CAPS, The Zone, RIMAC, Canyonview, Therapy Fluffies

Week 2 (Student Resource Centers + Misc.)

Possible meeting location: Art of Espresso (near Resource Centers)

- Resources and opportunities through the Old Student Center
 - Triton Food Pantry

FACULTY CONNECTIONS - EXAMPLES

2017

- Faculty Steering Committee discussed recruitment, ideas for collaboration, culture differences and similarities between the institutions, etc.

2018

- Writing Across the Humanities event - 7 faculty from the UC San Diego College Writing Programs and 6 from SDCCD Humanities discussed the challenges of knowledge transfer
- Reacting Across the Past workshops - trained faculty in the innovative pedagogy spearheaded by Barnard College, where students learn by actively taking on roles, informed by historical texts, in situations set in past places and times, for example Ancient Rome or Revolutionary France
- SDCCD Professors met with UC San Diego Humanities Graduate Students for a happy hour to discuss career options

PATH

2019

- Faculty Steering Committee in February focused on diverse and inclusive practices used in classrooms at UC San Diego and SDCCD
- SDCCD Professor audited UC San Diego Mexican Philosophy class
 - Created a workshop to develop a similar syllabus for SDCCD students
 - Completed a teaching demo at City College (open to UC San Diego professors and grad students)

PATH

STUDENT ENRICHMENT - EXAMPLES

Winter 2018 – Humanities Career Panels:

- Topics were law, medicine, fellowships, entertainment - all of the speakers emphasized the value of their degree in the humanities and how it helped them reach their career goals

Spring 2018 – Happenings:

- Students learned about Allan Kaprow's 1960's "Happenings," in their classrooms. UC San Diego guest lecturer (and Kaprow scholar) Jeff Kelley led a re-creation of "Sweetwall," (one of the original "Happenings") on the UC San Diego campus. This experiential all-day activity was undertaken jointly by students from UC San Diego and Miramar.

PATH

STUDENT ENRICHMENT - EXAMPLES

Fall 2018 – NYC Conference

- Faculty, students & staff from SDCCD and UC San Diego presented at a Community College and the Future of Humanities conference

Fall 2019 - Storytelling Workshop

- Students and faculty participated in a joint storytelling for humanities event to effectively leverage storytelling for themselves

Spring 2019 - Philosophy Reading Group

- Monthly program that introduces SDCCD students to campus and UC San Diego Philosophy faculty, graduate students, and undergraduates

PATH

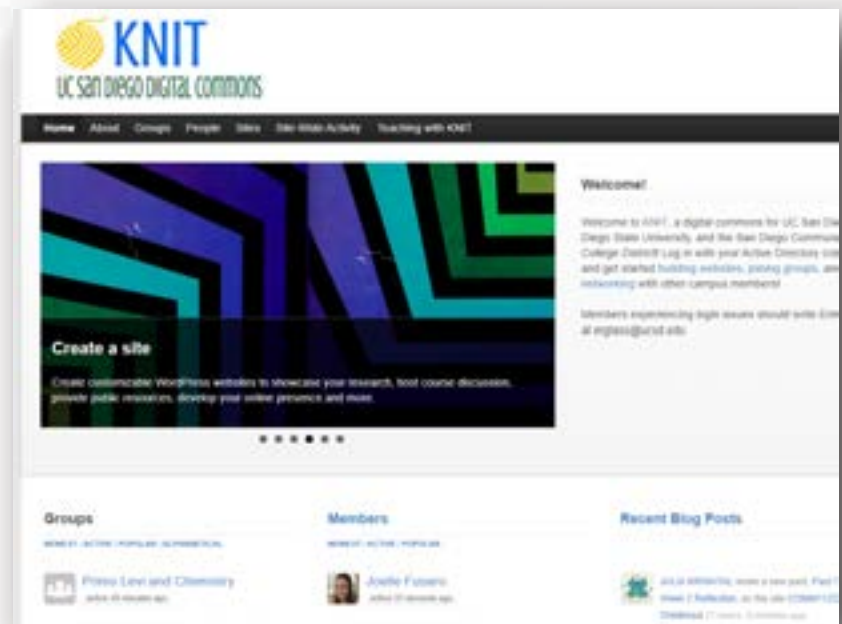

DIGITAL COMMONS

A&H's Digital Commons, "KNIT," uses the academic-developed open source software Commons in a Box (CBOX) and offers all campus members the ability to create websites, discussion groups and network with other campus members. Arts and Humanities division and SDCCD planned on using KNIT to:

- 1) Implement course websites to facilitate peer collaboration
- 2) Offer digital literacy workshops
- 3) Enable students to build professional academic websites
- 4) Foster community between transfer students and the broader campus community

Very ambitious goals to set for a digital commons whose practice and technology is still foreign to the broader campus communities.

PATH

DIGITAL COMMONS

SUCCESSES INCLUDE:

- Currently 1,962 users, 52 groups
- SDCCD and San Diego State University have access
- UC San Diego Educational Technology Services (ETS) was able to resolve technical issues
- KNIT Research & Development - Undergraduate group that met bi-weekly in Fall 2019 to read, discuss and blog about digital issues (internet governance, internet ethics, collaborative software development) with Erin Glass, with an emphasis on how digital technologies shape the arts and Humanities
- Students in Summer Academy blogged about their reactions to readings, and the authors of the readings responded
- Students used the site for independent projects, like the creation of an Asian American anthology
